UPCOMING SERVICES

This Week: June 16th

"Celebrating The Summer Solstice"

Next Week: June 23rd

"Quantum Universe Part 1"

Presenter: Dee Dee Camhi

Service Associate: Priscilla Taylor

The Summer Solstice is that time of year when the sun is at its furthest point from the equator. It has been marked as the high point of summer--or midsummer--since the Neolithic time. At the same time, the Southern Hemisphere points away from the sun, creating winter. At our service, we will look at the various ways the Solstice has been celebrated around the world and incorporate a few of these traditions into our time together.

Presenter: Rev. Matt Alspaugh

Service Associate: Jane Castleman

We live in an enigmatic world, one that deep down, doesn't make 'common sense' at all. Yet the physical evidence is sound - the world is 'quantum' in nature. It's hard to make sense of, hard to describe (without advanced mathematics). But we can try. Starting with an historic and paradoxical experiment, we'll explore just a little bit of this quantum universe, and consider a few of its implications. This is a two-part series.

June Humanist Zoom Discussion

The Humanist Discussion Group will meet Wednesday June 26th at 11am Via Zoom.

June Topic

Are we truly alone in this vast universe, or is intelligent extraterrestrial life out there waiting to be discovered? This discussion will delve into Fermi's paradox, the ongoing search for extraterrestrial intelligence (SETI), the controversial subject of UFOs, and critically examine ancient alien theories and the pseudoscientific claims made to support them, contrasting them with the skeptical, evidence-based approach advocated by science. Join us for a thought-provoking exploration of one of humanity's most enduring questions.

Humanist Discussion Group-Wed June 26 11am

Wednesday May 22 11:00am on Zoom (CST)

May Topic As artificial intelligence continues to advance rapidly, its potential applications in military affairs become increasingly concerning from an ethical and humanitarian perspective. The development of autonomous weapon systems, AI-powered surveillance and targeting, and the automation of many warfighting functions could lead to a future of warfare that is more impersonal, unpredictable, and potentially more devastating to human life. At the same time, AI-enabled technologies may also have the potential to reduce military casualties and collateral damage through improved decision-making, risk assessment, and precision. However, this raises complex moral and legal questions about the appropriate role of machines in the use of lethal force. Ultimately, the intersection of AI and warfare will be a critical issue shaping the future of global security and conflict.
